

To Whom it May Concern

Let it be known that on the day, December 25, _____, the following conditions were agreed upon by the undersigned regarding the following gifts presented by Mr. Santa Claus, otherwise known as Kris Kringle, otherwise known as Saint Nicholas: _____ (Henceforth, this will be referred to as the "device.") Let it also be known that "The Parents" have been awarded full Power of Attorney on behalf of Mr. Claus.

Conditions as follows must be agreed upon to complete transfer of all goods and services:

1. The Device must be treated with the utmost of respect and care by The Kid.
2. The Device found improperly stored, left in an unsafe location (e.g., on the floor, in the front yard, between the couch cushions, in a vehicle), or otherwise mistreated will be confiscated by The Parents for an indefinite period of time. The Parents may choose to spend this time playing with the device in plain sight of the offending Kid.
3. Homework and/or household chores must be completed to The Parents satisfaction before device may be used for recreational purposes, period the end.
4. The duration of play on The Device will be determined by and/or limited by The Parents. Ending time will be met with cheerful dispositions by The Kid. Whining and gnashing of teeth are not permitted.
5. The Device must be surrendered to the care of The Parents upon demand of said Device, no questions asked.
6. At NO TIME shall The Device leave the physical confines of the home without permission of The Parents.
7. The contents of The Device (e.g., apps, downloads, browser history, etc.) may be inspected by The Parents at any time. If content is deemed inappropriate, The Parents may confiscate The Device for an indefinite period of time.
8. The Kid may not download any content of any kind without prior consent from The Parents. Downloading unapproved content will result in loss of Device privileges.
9. The Parents may confiscate The Device at any time for their personal use, no questions asked. The Kid may not whine, pout, sigh, stomp, make faces, or display any other outward expressions of displeasure. Doing so may result in even more time away from The Device, as determined by The Parents.
10. Because The Device far exceeds the value and capabilities of items previously requested of Mr. Claus, The Kid must henceforth keep a cheerful disposition until the approximate age of 25, or until The Kid begins paying his/her own insurance. Evidence to the contrary will result in loss of privileges and/or confiscation of The Device.
